

A get-away-from-it-all motor caravan should be exactly that. Not limited by its size and where it can go.

The Honda pick-up truck, on which the Romahome is based, has been proved over a number of years in many countries.

